A SLOB'S GUIDE TO SPIRITUAL GROWTH

Step 11: Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

IT'S A SQUIRMY word--"spiritual." It makes me uncomfortable. It reminds me of the time I spent as a child sitting in a church and trying to look holy. "Spiritual" is confused in my mind with a kind of hymn and has connotations of mediums, levitation, and ghosts.

Worse, "spiritual" implies pretensions of sainthood, a hypocritical posturing, and pretended preoccupation with wonderful thoughts--when I and everybody else know that ninety percent of my day is spent trying to keep the wolf from the door and the horse before the cart.

My spiritual inventory doesn't help much, either. This very day, as I lay in bed staring piously at the ceiling, I took the Third and Eleventh Steps firmly, fondly, and resolutely. I thought warmly of all the great tasks I would accomplish today with the aid of my trusty Third and Eleventh. Then I got out of bed.

In midwinter, with the window open and the heat turned down, getting out of a warm bed apparently is, for me, an act of will of the highest spiritual order. This monumental achievement seems to exhaust my store of spiritual strength for the day.

By ten o'clock, I have a number of creative suggestions to offer my Higher Power on how my life and will might be gainfully employed. I have a serene acceptance of God's will for me as long as it happens to conform to mine.

By 2:00 PM, I have decided to mix a little of my will for me with His, since knowledge of His will is a little slow in coming and there are problems in need of immediate attention--like meeting the payroll, hardly a matter of celestial concern.

This line of self-examination leads to certain humbling realizations that are unwanted but nevertheless gnawing little realities -- potholes in the path of smooth spiritual development. For example:

1. I won't believe tomorrow what I am saying today. Many of my hard-won convictions are just expedient reactions to the situation at hand.
2. I have never seen any profound wisdom in "Everything works out eventually." Of course it does. If my car is stolen tomorrow, I can meditate on how smart I was to put off cleaning out the ashtray.

3. There are far more things I try to find the courage to change than there are things I seek the serenity to accept. Going through the day in placid acceptance of everything that happens just ain't my style.
4. I sometimes get tired of all this self-improvement and would like to just sit back and relax and enjoy life.
5. I really enjoy solitude occasionally, as opposed to constant contact with my fellowman. There are times when I prefer curling up with a good book with lots of sex and violence to putting the Big Book under my arm and sallying forth to carry the message.

Those are not proud admissions, just the truth. I lead an odd and noisy life; little happens slowly or quietly. When I read my Big Book and "Twelve and Twelve," and I assess my spiritual growth, I am filled with enormous feelings of inadequacy. Honesty, compassion, acceptance, understanding, faith, love, caring--I don't even think about those most of the time. My progress toward spiritual strength is a zigzag trail filled with hip-shooting reactions.

Sometimes, I have thought of creating a Slob's Guide to Spiritual Growth, for those of us who can't walk around with our hands folded and a slight, mysterious smile on our faces. It might go something like this:

1. It is better to watch the game in your undershirt with a can of cola in your hand than a can of beer.
2. When you holler at somebody, you always feel lousy afterward--like a hangover.
3. Life is a steady drizzle of small things--carry an umbrella.
4. Tomorrow is another day.
5. Never give up.
6. Concentrate on what you're doing--it beats thinking.
7. If you let the other fellow alone and don't get so upset about how he's living his life, you can watch more TV.
8. It is more fun to be happy than angry.
9. Don't take anything too seriously, including all of the above.
10. This, too, shall pass.

That's a start. All that wisdom leads me to suspect that the path of spiritual progress is perhaps not so steep and dark as I had imagined. At least, I can try to understand it without getting all smug and lofty.

For starters, I know that I am a walking miracle. Literally overnight, I went from years of twenty-four-hour crash drinking to total sobriety, after everything had failed except total surrender to the AA program. That is a fact I can stand on.

From that foundation, I am able to see certain glimmers of progress. For example, I can realize that I have not done anything dishonorable in at least a week. Maybe more. Also, I have learned that using utter candor in approaching whatever progress I have made lets me feel a lot more comfortable with that progress, however slim and unspectacular it may be--it's all mine and I'm proud of getting even that far.

I have known all along, after all, that my underlying problem was not drinking but living, and only through a change of attitudes, through unquestioning acceptance of the AA program--a program of spiritual growth--could I hope to live life as forcefully, aggressively, and enthusiastically as I have. Something must have happened.

And as I peel away the layers of day-to-day expediency, I realize that my zigzag, erratic, and inconsistent course was in the general direction of progress all the time. That's good.

What right do I have to expect perfection and efficiency in my spiritual growth when the rest of my life is so full of ups and downs, ins and outs, and backs and forths? Throughout this whole adventure, the only consistency I have maintained is an absolute and total faith in AA, come what may.

Happiness happens when results exceed expectations. Maybe this is working after all. Deep down, there is also a warm, small ball of faith, always there, never dimmed, unexplainable, asking nothing, but giving much. To define it or try to bounce it would distort or destroy it. It just is, that's all.

As St. Augustine said, "God is closer to me than I am to Him." I don't know exactly what that means, but it sure is true.

What Is Service In AA To Me

I am active in service in AA for one reason only- to help myself stay sober- and the primary role in service I have taken is to maintain AA the way it is and to make sure it is here for the newcomer. I don't do things to get attention nor for a reward. I do things because I was taught to do things for the program of AA and a side result is that others may benefit as well. Guess what, there are a lot of politics and personalities and egos in AA. A lot of people who do or don't do anything but complain. But the process is important or Bill W. wouldn't have made things the way they are. Yet a lot of people want to change the process for their personal benefit or they want to circumvent the process and claim ignorance.

If a group doesn't have a GSR and an Intergroup rep. and make regular donations to the District, Area, Intergroup, and GSO, that group is not maintaining AA the way it is nor is it making sure it is available for the newcomer. The group that violates the traditions in the hopes of "saving" everyone is just as guilty as the closed meeting that expels the addict without offering a explanation or offer of hope. It sends the wrong message and it is bad for AA as a whole.

The lack of people willing to be of service in AA is a joke. At the last MSCA 09 Assembly 64 GSR's were present out of a possible 1900 registered groups. At the last OC Intergroup meeting only about 50 Intergroup reps out of 1200 listed meetings were in attendance. Yet the people that are willing and able to do things and try get slammed for doing anything. Or others are told to rotate away and not serve anymore (I don't see a line of people wanting to be of service).

Currently I serve at the district level as DCMC of district 5. The Intergroup association voted me in as a director and I am the current vice-chair. At the Area level I am the chairman of the Corrections committee. And lastly at my home group I am the meeting secretary of the Enjoying Life group in Orange. Oh, by the way I have a 4 year old daughter that I take care of by myself and I work about 70 hours a week. So I just have to ask those that argue that they don't have the time to be in service - How much time can you afford to not be in service?

A member of Alcoholics Anonymous

Acceptance" Remains The Answer

Our public relations policy is based on attraction rather than promotion; we need always maintain personal anonymity at the level of press, radio and film. -
- Tradition 11, Alcoholics Anonymous.

For longer than I've been a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, the Harbor Area Service Committee has offered a Traditions Banquet, usually in late November to coincide with the AA observance of Thanksgiving. Sometime in the late 80s or early 90s, the Committee presented Dr. Paul O., who was rather well-known in Orange County and beyond as the author of "Doctor, Alcoholic, Addict" on Page 439 of the Third Edition of our Big Book. (In the Fourth Edition, the story appears on Page 407 with a new title, "Acceptance Was the Answer.") The essay carries one of the most-quoted passages in AA literature -- "Nothing, absolutely nothing, happens in God's world by mistake." It appears in it's entirety on Page 449 in the Third Edition and on page 417 in the Fourth.

Dr. Paul, accompanied by his Al-Anon wife Maxine, explained to the Traditions Banquet audience why he held the Traditions in such high esteem.

He said that their 28-year marriage was headed for a dismal ending before he found Alcoholics Anonymous. And, my notes from the banquet affirm, they used the program of Alcoholics Anonymous to restructure their lives together.

"We did our meditations separately," Dr. Paul told his audience, "then sat down for breakfast together and methodically examined one or another of the Twelve Steps.

"That worked well for several years until I read a piece on the Traditions that emphasized how vital attraction was to the continued health and growth of our program. I mentioned it to Max and she suggested we read up on Tradition 11 and we did so the following day.

"That went so well that we switched from Steps to Traditions and we still start our day every day with an in-house review of how the Traditions and the Steps are keeping us sober, healthy and growing in the program of Alcoholics Anonymous."

Impressed with the declaration from Dr. Paul -- and excited by the thought that using the same device could broaden my effort to stay sober -- I asked my wife if she was willing to try the same procedure in our breakfast meetings. She said yes and for several years we did discuss our gratitude for the programs -- AA and Al-Anon -- that have kept our marriage alive and vibrant.

Attraction, not promotion. It wasn't evident when I sat down to write about Tradition 11 that this Tradition has been a major force in my continuing stay in Alcoholics Anonymous. And for that I am increasingly grateful.

Sponsorship: An Expression of Gratitude

Number 11 in a continuing series on A.A. Service

What better topic for November, gratitude month, than sponsorship? All of us in A.A., in some way, owe our very lives to sponsorship. I know that some have never had a sponsor, but that does not mean that they do not owe their lives to sponsorship.

Even Chuck C., who was reported to have not had a sponsor, said, and I paraphrase, "I wasn't sober long enough to hold a coffee cup without shaking it all over those around me before I had a hundred sponsors". Someone has shown us the way from the beginning.

For those of us who were fortunate enough to have asked someone to help us on a more formal basis, the sponsorship relationship has proven to be a priceless gift. My first sponsor, very early on, taught me that I could learn to trust another human being. He told me he had two jobs, (1) to take me through the 12 steps as he was taken through them by his sponsor and (2) to introduce me to a variety of A.A. members and A.A. service. He spent 5 months taking me to through the 12 steps, but before he could introduce me to a variety of A.A. service, he had to move away to take care of his very sick mother. This allowed me to ask a second man to be my sponsor. He answered me, "No, but I will be your Service Sponsor". For the next 10 years this man coerced, threatened, shamed or otherwise induced me to try all kinds of service in A.A. At the very crux of his ability to induce me to commit to any service was my knowledge that he had done it before me.

When my second sponsor died, I asked a man to sponsor me whom I had met in H & I service work and whom I respected very much. He gently, yet firmly, guided me through the next 4 years of my sobriety and I learned much about proportion from this kindly little munchkin of an Irishman.

Upon his death, I asked my current sponsor to work with me. Like my previous sponsor, he was very active in H & I service work and in Intergroup. I continue to take direction from his example.

Of course, it is also necessary to let you know that I have had the privilege of sponsoring A.A. members since my first sponsor introduced me to someone "desperate enough to want what I had", (guess where that text is found in the Big Book!). To these A.A. members, I have tried to pass on the priceless gift given me by all my sponsors – the gift of gratitude expressed as an action. Taking someone through the steps, precisely, (well almost, precisely) as I was taken through the steps is the beginning of a journey for both parties in the sponsorship relationship. The new member is offered a way of life that really works and I am given reaffirmation in the power of the 12 steps.

As part of the 12th step, an exposure to service outside the Home Group, (Intergroup, H & I, General Service along with various other committee work) is a requirement for all whom it has been my privilege to sponsor. Some take to it, some don't. But they are all exposed to it. It has been my observation that this facet of sponsorship is often ignored, but is no less critical than the journey through the steps. Bill W. stated in 1943, "Honesty with ourselves and others -- that gets us sober, but it is tolerance that keeps us that way". If you want to learn tolerance through practice, get and keep a commitment to service outside your Home Group.

Next month, the final installment in this 12-month journey – the ultimate service in A.A.

"A New Life"

First off, let me explain... I had to go to prison to find A.A. I honestly feel I was too sick mentally and had too many hangups in my "Mocho-Mocho" bag to belittle myself by admitting that I had a problem with my drinking. To be honest, something the program has taught me.... when I first 'came in', I didn't have a drinking problem, I had a living problem. And I was willing to do something about it. It wasn't long before when I tried to do it on my own. I was always trying to change people, places and things to fit my needs. So I realized my drinking and thinking was connected. They were both screwed up bad and I knew I needed help.

I can remember my first A.A. meeting that I attended. I wasn't turned on, in fact, I didn't really like you people. I was looking for the negative things. I mean, how could anybody as messed up as I was turn their lives around? How wrong could I be? It took awhile, but I started listening. And after that things came easier, in fact it wasn't long before I started putting my hand out, talking, and getting to know you on an individual basis.

The longer I am in the program, the more I become aware how much I owe the H & I Committee and the panel chairman who bring you people in to carry the message to those who are locked up. Words cannot really express the feelings I have in my heart for you. I can only speak for myself. You saved my ass, and gave me a new life.

The best way that I can repay you is by passing it along. That's why, in my heart, there's a special feeling for the H & I people. And I pray that God (as I understand Him) will let me carry the message to those who want to listen.

Chuck A."

Editor's Note

To learn how to "carry the message" to those who are institutionalized plan to attend H&I meetings: The Orange County Hospitals and Institutions Committee meets on the 2nd Sunday of every month at the Garden Grove Alano Club, 9845 Belfast, Garden Grove.

Institutions Committee: 4:00 PM - 5:00 PM

Hospitals Committee: 6:00 PM – 7:00 PM

(Orientation for first time attendees at 3:15 PM and 5:15 PM.)

A Daily Surrender

Every morning that I wake up is a good day for someone like me. I look forward to what God has in store for me; whether it's good or bad I will embrace each moment as they come. Every morning I quiet my head with prayer and meditation. For me this is a must because I can't start my day with a head running with ideas. The big book says on page 85, "What we really have is a daily reprieve contingent on the maintenance of our spiritual condition. Every day is a day when we must carry the vision of God's will into all of our activities. How can I best serve Thee -Thy will (not mine) be done."

Every day is a daily surrender for me. I realize that I can't do this on my own and I need help. I look back at my drinking days and remember all my failed attempts every morning is my time to get closer to my God and seek his will. I ask Him for the strength and guidance to help out another human being who is still suffering.

It feels good to wake up and not be bombarded with thoughts of drinking. For me it is important that I continue to grow spiritually in my recovery and stay in action. I know every day is different and unique and comes with its share of trials and tribulations. Thanks to Alcoholics Anonymous I am able to deal with these things as they come and know that everything is going to be all right. I have victory and an inward peace in my life that I would have never thought possible. It all starts with a daily surrender, one day at a time. God bless.

Cosmic Laughter
An AA's Higher Power has a little fun

Last month, three of us from my home group brought a meeting to the local jail. Although we had all been there before as part of a regular commitment, this time we were turned away. The list of those screened for entry had just been updated, and in the process, the names of our group members had been inadvertently deleted. A series of phone calls to higher authorities produced nothing. It was not to be.

As I pulled away in my car, I felt angry and frustrated. I had planned my day around this meeting. Worse, the inmates would believe that we had failed to appear. Mentally, I commenced work on some high speech. Just wait till I had that coordinator on the other end of my phone.

It was then that my Higher Power made conscious contact. It sounded suspiciously like cosmic laughter. "What just happened?" I asked myself. I had been refused admission to jail, and I was unhappy! In a flash, I suddenly saw myself as I was. There were hundreds of guys locked up back there counting the hours until they could sit behind the wheel of a car and drive it wherever they wanted to. Many of them were put there by their disease.

With a little more humility and a lot more gratitude, I drove home. -- Kevin D.

CONCEPT XI

While the Trustees hold final responsibility for A.A.'s world service administration, they should always have the assistance of the best possible standing committees, corporate service directors, executives, staffs, and consultants. Therefore the composition of these underlying committees and service boards, the personal qualifications of their members, the manner of their induction into service, the systems of their rotation, the way in which they are related to each other, the special rights and duties of our executives, staffs, and consultants, together with a proper basis for the financial compensation of these special workers, will always be matters for serious care and concern.

The Trustees can't do everything the fellowship asks by themselves.

They need help. They need people to serve with them on the standing committees that are focused on the various concerns of AA.

They need corporate service directors to help make certain that AA is in competent and enthusiastic hands.

They need executives to make certain that the office is managed professionally and effectively.

They need efficient and effective staff to support AA's operations and implement projects.

They need consultants of the highest possible caliber to support and advise them.

Who will serve on the committees and the service boards?

What are their personal qualifications?

How will they be invited into service and by whom?

How will rotation be handled?

How will all of these people inter-relate? With each other, with the Trustees, and with the Fellowship?

Will there be special rights and duties of the executive staffs and consultants? What will they be? How much will each be paid?

All of these questions and answers to them were then, and still are, of great concern to AA, to each of us. They must be carefully and lovingly addressed in order that AA will continue to thrive and that we can effectively carry the message to the alcoholic, anywhere, who reaches out for help.

In the 16 pages devoted to this Concept by Bill W., plus the 10 footnotes and additional information about how the system has been changed over the years, we have a virtual Personnel Manual for AA. Bill discusses the pros and cons of some of the examples he could foresee of how the "good might be the enemy of the best". The years since have confirmed that some of those "good ideas" have been, indeed, brought up and discussed, again and again. Most resolutions have confirmed Bill's arguments and insight.

Although this Concept may seem a bit tedious, and parts of it are decidedly sexist, the vast majority of the structure of AA as a working organization is sound and far-sighted.

Bill distilled much wisdom and care into this Concept. I recommend a thoughtful reading...and don't forget the footnotes: they are important!

TWAS THE NIGHT OF
THANKSGIVING, BUT I
JUST COULDN'T SLEEP

I TRIED COUNTING
BACKWARDS, I TRIED
COUNTING SHEEP.

THE LEFTOVERS BECKONED
- THE DARK MEAT AND WHITE

BUT I FOUGHT THE
TEMPTATION WITH ALL OF
MY MIGHT

TOSSING AND TURNING
WITH ANTICIPATION

THE THOUGHT OF A SNACK
BECAME INFATUATION.

SO, I RACED TO THE KITCHEN, FLUNG OPEN THE DOOR

AND GAZED AT THE FRIDGE,
FULL OF GOODIES GALORE.

I GOBBLED UP TURKEY AND BUTTERED POTATOES,

PICKLES AND CARROTS,
BEANS AND TOMATOES.

I FELT MYSELF SWELLING
SO PLUMP AND SO ROUND,

'TIL ALL OF A SUDDEN, I
ROSE OFF THE GROUND.

I CRASHED THROUGH THE CEILING, FLOATING INTO THE SKY

WITH A MOUTHFUL OF PUDDING AND A HANDFUL OF PIE.

BUT, I MANAGED TO YELL AS I SOARED PAST THE TREES....

HAPPY EATING TO ALL - PASS THE CRANBERRIES,
PLEASE.

MAY YOUR STUFFING BE
TASTY, MAY YOUR TURKEY
BE PLUMP.
MAY YOUR POTATOES 'N
GRAVY HAVE NARY A LUMP,
MAY YOUR YAMS BE
DELICIOUS MAY YOUR PIES
TAKE THE PRIZE,
MAY YOUR THANKSGIVING DINNER STAY OFF OF YOUR THIGHS.

HAVE A WONDERFUL
THANKSGIVING!

From "When A.A. Came of Age":

[Father Ed Dowling of the Roman Catholic Jesuit order] "had boldly written in effect to all alcoholics and especially those of his own faith: 'Folks, A.A. is good. Come and get it.' And this they certainly had done. His first written words were the beginning of a wonderfully benign influence in favor of our fellowship, the

There are times when my sons say, "Hey, mom, the old man is getting mellow."

Part of it is gentle mockery; the rest, an acknowledgment by them of what "Live and Let Live" has changed in me — at least to a degree.

It wasn't always thus, and my wife and sons ought to know, because there was no real peace in my home for quite a while after I joined AA.

Some people are born with a silver spoon in their mouths, but I came into this world with boxing gloves on my hands. I was taking the other fellow's inventory long before I ever took the first drink.

I spent a good part of the time silently or openly criticizing other members of the human race: their hypocrisy, greed, drive for power, exploitation of the underdog, false spirituality, etc.

And do you know, I never succeeded in changing one of them! But I became an increasingly bitter and poisonous individual.

"Live and Let Live" eventually opened my eyes to the mental sickness that lies in intolerance. And it can progress almost as insidiously and destructively as alcoholism.

Where there is persistent intolerance, peace of mind is absent. Dry alcoholics who allow themselves to be afflicted with hatred, malice, dislike, revenge, or any censorious attitude toward others are depriving themselves of some of the beneficent wonders of AA and the blessings of harmonious living with others.

I like it when the family says I'm "mellow." It's a much nicer word than many others formerly applied to me. And what's more, I know they mean it.

Astonishing, isn't it, what can happen to a fellow in AA when he tries something like "Live and Let Live"?

Published monthly by the Orange County Intergroup Association

Purpose: The Orange County Lifeline Committee is a committee of volunteer A.A. members, charged with the responsibility of producing and distributing the Orange County Lifeline, (a publication of the Orange County Intergroup Association). The Lifeline is published monthly and is supported solely through contributions from the A.A. groups and members of Orange County. The Lifeline is published to meet the following needs of the Orange County A.A. membership: to inform the A.A. membership regarding A.A. service, A.A. events and A.A. announcements; also to share experience in recovery, unity and service; to keep the A.A. membership informed regarding the actions, finances and meetings of the Orange County Intergroup Association and other Central Office committees.

Lifeline Committee:

Larry E. (Chair); Phil F., Jim S., Nick M., George L., Cathy R. (Editor)

CENTRAL OFFICE CALL FORWARDING SHIFTS

Call-forwarding is the program instituted by Orange County Central Office whereby, during hours when the Central Office is closed, calls to the Central Office are forwarded to your phone and you answer the calls, just as if you were sitting in the Central Office as a volunteer. This service allows the Central Office to realize a significant cost savings because we do not need to contract to a vendor to answer the phone and forward the call on to a central Office 12th Step volunteer. Even more vital, when a call is placed to Alcoholics Anonymous, the caller will be talking to an A.A. member not a paid private worker! Many of the shifts listed below are currently filled by A.A. members. If you see a shift that you would be able to take, please call the Central Office at (714) 556-4555 to determine if that shift is currently unfilled

In order to volunteer for this service, you must first arrange with the Central Office Manager for a brief orientation session which will be held at the Central Office. This truly is "front – line" 12th Step work and we would appreciate any time you can give.

INTERGROUP SERVICE BOARD ELECTIONS

The annual Intergroup election of Service Board members will be held on Wednesday, November 8, 2006 at 7:00 p.m.; at the Jamboree Worship Center, 2777 McGaw Avenue in Irvine. The election will be held before the regular business meeting for the first time. This new arrangement was made to help conduct both events in a more time-efficient manner.

There are ten Intergroup Association Service Board positions. Four of the Board Members are completing two-year terms and replacements will be elected. In a unique but practical process, after the four are elected, all of the Board positions become open; (except the Orange County H. & I. Committee Chair who automatically serves as the Intergroup H. & I. Committee Chair). The ten members of the new Board then elect from their number, the four Intergroup officers to one-year terms: Chair, Vice-Chair, Secretary and Treasurer.

The new Intergroup Chair then appoints—with Board approval — the five remaining Standing Committee Chairs to one-year terms [Central Office Comm., Group Relations Comm., Lifeline Comm., Public Information Comm. and Special Events Comm.].

The Orange County Intergroup pamphlet ELECTION 2006 currently being distributed has a description of the election process and a summary of the duties of each Board Member. Copies are available at the Central Office. You may be interested in standing for election and providing a much needed service to support delivering the message to alcoholics who need the help.

The listed speakers have been invited by the respective groups and their message does not imply the endorsement of the Orange County Intergroup nor their Central Office.

I want to offer my apologies to several people who had sent in birthday notifications for the October Lifeline. I misplaced them in my files and so these gallant leaders in sobriety were not listed. Fortunately, my error does not detract from their sobriety.
